

DR. DEPEW EXPLAINS

Why New York City Lost the Republican Convention.

HOSTILITY TO THE WORLD'S FAIR

Said to Have Caused the West to Ignore the Metropolitan-Gothautes are Not a Jealous, but a Busy People—Haven't Thought Much About the Exposition Yet, but They Will in Good Time.

New York, Nov. 26.—Speaking today of New York's failure to secure the national convention, Chauncey M. Depew said, in effect, that the whole trouble was that the people of the West did not like New York's attitude toward the World's Fair. He opened the eyes of the New Yorkers in this fashion:

"I had a long interview the other day with Mr. Baker, who is the president of the World's Fair corporation and of the Board of Trade of Chicago. Mr. Baker is a man of large business, who has given up everything to devote his entire time to making the fair a success. He expressed what is the undoubted opinion not only of Chicago, but of the West, that New York is indifferent to the fair as a whole, and the press and leaders of public opinion here are hostile to it.

"There is no doubt that the impression has intensified the growing hostility to New York, which is becoming so common in the west. It is one of the curious phenomena that a New Yorker of wide acquaintance in the western states comes in contact with without any definite reason being assigned for it. It is not so much a

JEALOUSY OF THE METROPOLIS as it is a feeling that the interests of New York and the west are diverse.

"It is difficult to be in any considerable company without hearing a sneer about the completion of the monument of General Grant. The canvassing of the west by Chicago, with its usual ardor and impulsiveness, for the World's Fair, and the fight over the location, added greatly to this sentiment. I had advice on Saturday night as to the mind of the National committee which satisfied me that no presentation which could be made by New York would secure the convention in this city; and, having returned from Washington once in a very humble frame of mind, I did not care to do any more walking except for my health."

"As a matter of fact the West does not understand New York at all. In Chicago they have a commercial club of sixty members which has been in existence many years and comprises representatives of all their leading industries and enterprises. This club will instantly take up anything which will affect Chicago, because what benefits Chicago benefits them more largely than anybody else. The same power of concentration through the board of trade, in which has come to every western and northwestern state. It is easier to arouse public sentiment and then concentrate it than to secure all the subscriptions that the community can bear in a city of 200,000 than in one of 2,000,000.

"The city is neither hostile to the West nor indifferent. Its people are so absorbed in the affairs which immediately concern them that there is no public opinion in New York unless it is roused by special appeal and earnest effort. New Yorkers have given no thought to the World's Fair, nor will they unless public spirited citizens make a vigorous movement to have the city and the state properly represented. I should be willing to say that the rust and drive of our city life is so exhausting and one excitement after another succeeds so rapidly that if New York had no space assigned to her at all at the World's Fair and was not there the fact would only be known to be lamented by the small section of this great population who visit the spot.

"I think I have as large an acquaintance as anybody and am constantly brought into contact in a business way and in clubs and social and political life with the current of metropolitan talk, and I have heard nowhere the slightest expression of enmity or jealousy in regard to the exhibition at Chicago.

TWO THINGS ARE SELF-EVIDENT.

One, that New York State and city should be properly represented, that this commonwealth should have a building commensurate with its position among its sister states, that the legislature should make something more than a perfunctory appropriation—a generous one for this purpose—and to assist exhibitors in their attendance.

"The second is that the time has come when our people should be informed of the extent, magnitude and success, as already demonstrated, of this exhibition. It is to be a display of our progress as a nation in everything which constitutes our greatness far beyond anything contemplated at the time the exhibition was authorized. On its national side it will excel anything of the kind ever attempted by any country in which these world's fairs have been successes. The exhibit of the United States will be so stupendous as to make secondary the international aspect of the fair. Nearly every other city and state but ours is alive to the commercial significance of being properly represented in its manufacturing, agricultural and all resources in this vast competition.

"Notwithstanding the pessimistic views which prevail in European correspondence to the press, the foreign contributions will be very large and valuable. More representative business men will visit this country from Europe and South America than have been here, all told, in the last twenty-five years. They will come with THEIR EYES WIDE OPEN looking for a market, and they will also interest themselves in American products which they can profitably handle and sell in their own land.

"This view readily suggests the importance to the New York State manufacturer of doing his best at Chicago. Most of the visitors will land at New York, but they will be birds of passage. They may be impressed with the beauty of our harbor and the marvelous creation of this island for commerce with its immense dock fronts on both sides; with its public buildings and general metropolitan aspect; but what might be termed their commercial minds will not be opened until they reach Chicago.

"New York, therefore, should be prepared to continue and intensify any favorable impression which a visitor may have received in passing through our city. For New York not to be properly represented at the fair would react in such a way that even a town as large as ours would feel it. It would so intensely the Western irritation as to lead not exactly to a boycott but to the transfer of much business to other centers which now come here. The business man of Chicago or St. Louis or Omaha or Minneapolis or St. Paul or Cincinnati is keenly alive to everything which promises to bring trade to his city or to divert it in another direction."

LEPROSY IN MICHIGAN.

The Flesh of a Wolverine Dropping Off in Large Pieces.

CLARE, MICH., Nov. 26.—John Powers, a laboring man, of Sheridan township, is afflicted with a malignant type of genuine leprosy. Powers is a most disgusting object to behold. His flesh seems to have been already invested with the putrescence of the grave and is dropping off in great masses. A foul odor emanates from the decayed tissues, so powerful that it is said to be impossible to enter the room where the unfortunate man lies without experiencing a feeling of nausea.

The physicians in charge of the case are very reticent about it, probably acting on instructions from the state board of health. The medical men seem to be afraid of creating a scare, unless they keep all the facts secret. They even go so far as to say that Powers is afflicted only with some scrofulous trouble of an aggravated type.

The disease, as the story is related, made its appearance more than a year ago in the form of small white blotches on his face. Powers paid no great attention to the eruptions at the start, and the malady had its own way for a considerable time. The white blotches increased in number until they covered the entire body. On his face, where the disease first made itself apparent, the cuticles began to fall off in scales.

Powers finally consulted a physician, who pronounced the difficulty eczema. The afflicted man took the ordinary treatment, but got worse instead of better. His flesh became very dry and cracked at every movement of the muscles. The nose and lips swelled into the most horrible shapes and the patient rapidly sank into the pitiable condition of the present time.

At no time has the progress of the disease been checked in the least. The symptoms are quite like those of gangrene, except that the disorder did not originate with a wound or abrasure of the skin, nor does the destruction of tissues extend to the muscles, but simply to the outside skin. The limbs are drawn and contracted, as if by rheumatism. The sight is destroyed completely, the hair has all fallen out, and the face bears no resemblance to a human countenance.

The patient is able to retain little nourishment and the end cannot be very far distant. The origin of the disease is a mystery.

PADDY RYAN'S BENEFIT.

Sullivan Says He Will Fight Slavin Next October.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Three thousand people attended Paddy Ryan's benefit at the Pacific club last night. The benefit was arranged for Ryan by John L. Sullivan and a number of San Francisco sporting men, and consisted of boxing, fencing and club swinging. The chief event was a lively three-round go between Sullivan and Ryan, which closed the exhibition. Sullivan appeared very fresh, weighing in the neighborhood of 260 pounds. He stated from the stage that in order to quiet newspaper talk he would announce that as to the match with Slavin his money was posted in New York to bind such a match to take place the latter of the first part of October, 1892. "Slavin is the first man I ever challenged," said Sullivan. "Now I am sick of discussing the matter and wish to hear no more about it."

Killed at a Ball Fight.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Nov. 26.—J. R. Coleman, an American, engaged in business at Guanajuato, Mexico, brings particulars of an accident which took place in that city last Sunday and which resulted in the killing of twelve people and the serious injury of nine others. Several hundred people had assembled in a bull fighting arena to witness a fight when the small amphitheatre gave way.

Seven Persons Lost.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The British bark Georgetown, Captain Scott, from Palma, has been wrecked. The captain's wife, who accompanied him, and six members of the crew were drowned, but the remainder of those on board succeeded in reaching the shore in safety.

Drowned While Skating.

SPARTA, WIS., Nov. 26.—Two boys named Wooster and Summerfield were drowned in a mill pond at Milton while skating. They were alone and no one knew of the occurrence until night, when the boys failed to come home to supper. Search was made and the bodies found.

NEXT SOLAR ECLIPSE.

Importance of Its Observation Urged by Naval Authorities.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 26.—In his annual report to the Secretary of the Navy, Commodore Dewey, chief of the bureau of equipment, summarizes the work of his bureau during the past fiscal year as follows:

During the past fiscal year 53 vessels have been either wholly or partly equipped under this bureau at an expenditure of labor and material of $244,139.

Commodore Dewey encloses the reports of the superintendents of the naval observatory and the nautical almanac office, and of the naval inspector of electric lighting. The superintendent of the observatory says:

"On April 15, 1892, a total solar eclipse occurs under circumstances so favorable that its observation is extremely desirable. The central line of the shadow sweeps across South America, the Atlantic ocean and the southern part of Africa, and the duration of totality is four minutes, forty-two seconds near Ceara, Brazil, and four minutes, ten seconds near Bathurst, Senegambia. Many of the most important questions relating to the constitution of the sun can be studied only during total eclipses, and as the whole time available for that purpose is about three hours in a century, the necessity for utilizing every available eclipse is evident if we are ever to comprehend that wonderful orbit upon which the very existence of the human race depends. It is hoped that means may be provided for sending at least one party to Ceara and, if possible, another to Bathurst."

LIFE SAVERS.

Report of the Superintendent of the Life Saving Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 26.—The annual report of Mr. S. L. Kimball, General Superintendent of the Life Saving Service, shows as follows:

At the close of the last fiscal year the establishment embraced 238 stations, 178 on the Atlantic, 48 on the lakes, 11 on the Arctic and one on the falls of the Ohio at Louisville, Ky.

The results of all the disasters within the scope of the service aggregate as follows: Total number of disasters, 491; total value of property involved, $7,020,995; total value of property saved, $5,783,959; total value of property lost, $1,235,845; total number of persons on board, 3,491; total number of persons saved, 3,441; total number of persons lost, 50.

The crews saved without outside assistance 168 vessels, valued with their cargoes at $1,486,870, and assisted other efforts in saving 79 vessels, valued with the cargoes at $1,802,110, making the aggregate number of vessels which they saved and assisted to save during the year 247, involving $3,288,980 of property.

The cost of maintenance of the service during the year was $910,201. The saving of imperilled property was proportionately greater than in any former year with a single exception.

A MAN who has practiced medicine for forty years ought to know a lot from sugar; read what he says:

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most forty years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions. Yours truly,
